ITINERARY

Day 1: Arrive Fukuoka

Meals: None

Travel to Fukuoka, the gateway to Kyushu. Upon arrival, you will be met and transferred to your hotel. The rest of the day is at leisure before a night walking tour of the Nakasu, Fukuoka entertainment area.

This evening is at leisure – if you wish, why not stay in the Nakasu district longer and sample the yatai food independently?

Destination Information

Kyushu Island – Lush and volcanic, Kyushu is Japan's third largest island, roughly the size of Wales, with a warm, subtropical climate. Though it is Japan's second most populous island, it holds just 10% of the nation's people, and receives far fewer visitors than Honshu. Its close proximity to Asia has long made it a vital cultural gateway to China and the Korean Peninsula.

Fukuoka – Fukuoka, sometimes called Hakata, is Kyushu's largest city, perched on the island's northern shore. As the closest major city to the Asian mainland, it has a long history as a prominent merchant harbour and centre of trade. This laidback city is an important business centre, but has hidden charm in its scenic waterfront and lively food stall districts.

Nakasu - Nakasu is a vibrant, neon-lit district known for its energetic nightlife, featuring a mix of bustling nightclubs, traditional izakaya pubs, karaoke lounges, and lively gaming arcades. Along the waterfront, yatai food stalls offer local favorites like steamed buns and freshly grilled meat skewers.

Destination Information

Kyushu National Museum – Housed in a striking modern building in Dazaifu, this impressive museum traces Japanese history from the Ice Age through to modern times. With a special focus on Kyushu’s unique role as Japan’s cultural gateway to Asia, its exhibits highlight regional and international influences.

Dazaifu Tera-mu-gu - Is one of Japan’s leading Shinto shrines and serves as the head shrine of the Tenjin faith. It is especially distinctive for being built directly on the burial site of Sugawara no Michizane (845–903).

Kyoho Winery – Founded in 1972, this winery’s story began in 1939 with the creation of the Kyoho grape—now Japan’s most popular varietal. After decades of research, the family perfected it for winemaking and now also crafts wines from fruits like kiwi, blueberry, and persimmon.

Fukuoka Tower – This 234-metre tower is the tallest seaside tower in Japan. From its observation deck at 123 metres, visitors can enjoy panoramic views of the small city of Fukuoka, including its baseball dome and lovely coastline.
